

THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Melbourne, Australia
Department of Finance
Finance Senior Faculty Positions

The Department of Finance has vacancies for multiple positions at Associate Professor and Full Professor ranks. These full-time appointments are combined research and teaching appointments.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Applicants must hold a PhD in Finance or Financial Economics and must have the ability to satisfactorily teach at all levels, as well as a publication record of success consistent with appointment at a senior level. The Department is interested in hiring in all areas and has a particular interest in applicants with research and teaching interests in the fields of Asian capital markets and banking and financial intermediation.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Finance at The University of Melbourne sustains sizable undergraduate, masters, and doctoral programs, and thus accommodates a wide variety of research and teaching interests.

To support its many research activities, the Department subscribes to a large number of financial databases, including WRDS, SDC, Datastream, SIRCA, Bloomberg, OptionMetrics and IRESS. There are vibrant seminar and brown-bag series supplemented by an ongoing program of prominent international visiting academics. In addition, the department hosts the very successful Finance Down Under: Building on the Best from the Cellars of Finance Conference Series. For further information about the Department, please visit:

<http://www.finance.unimelb.edu.au/>

APPOINTMENT TERMS:

Salaries are dependent on experience and qualifications, guaranteed initially for three years. Attractive packages will be negotiated with successful applicants including extensive research and travel funding and eligibility for 6 months' paid sabbatical leave after every three years. Teaching loads are extremely competitive. The commencement date will be optimally negotiated.

Melbourne is a cosmopolitan city with fascinating architecture, vibrant energy, cultural events of every variety, and a wonderful choice of restaurants, shops, and galleries. With its verdant parks and temperate climate, Melbourne is repeatedly ranked among the world's most livable cities.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

Applicants should send an email to the Head of the Department of Finance, Prof. Bruce D. Grundy, fin-hod@unimelb.edu.au by December 31, 2011.

Enquiries are welcome by email to fin-hod@unimelb.edu.au, Bruce D. Grundy.

The University of Melbourne is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The University reserves the right to fill the positions by invitation or not to fill the positions.