

LAVAL UNIVERSITY
Tenure-track in Finance, Insurance or Real Estate Positions

The Department of Finance, Insurance and Real Estate of the Faculty of Administrative Sciences at Laval University, an AACSB accredited university, invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in finance.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS:

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Finance, Insurance and Real Estate or in a related field with an established research program in finance and outstanding teaching capabilities at the undergraduate, graduate (MBA, M.Sc., Ph.D.), and executive levels. Preference will be given to candidates with research and teaching interests in risk management, corporate finance, insurance, real estate and wealth management, but all areas of finance will be considered. New Ph.D. candidates will also be considered, but must be near completion. A normal teaching load is 6 hours per week for 30 weeks.

Compensation will be commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. Laval University offers internationally competitive remuneration, research support, reduced teaching loads for research active faculty, and relocation assistance.

French is the primary language used in teaching. Selected applicant will have no teaching load on her/his first semester upon hiring.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY :

Laval University is one of Canada's leading universities. Among the top ten Canadian universities in terms of research, Laval traces its origins back to 1663, when Monseigneur François de Laval, the first bishop of New France, founded the Quebec Seminary with the authorization of the King of France, Louis XIV. A Royal Charter creating Laval University was granted to the Quebec Seminary by Queen Victoria in 1852. A few years later, in 1878, Laval opened a second campus in Montreal to offer higher education teaching in this city. Laval's "Montreal branch" became the University of Montreal in 1920. As Canada's oldest university, Laval was the very first institution in North America to offer higher education in French.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

Consideration of applications begins now, and will continue until the position is filled. All qualified candidates are welcomed to apply. However, Canadians and Permanent Residents will be given priority. Laval University is an equal opportunity affirmative action employer and we encourage applications by women candidates.

Starting date: As mutually agreed.

To apply, please send a letter of application, letters of recommendation, and curriculum vitae to:
