

7th Conference on Emerging Markets Finance Call For Papers

15th, 16th and 17th December, 2016

Indira Gandhi Institute of Development Research, Bombay, India

We are inviting submission of papers to a conference on "Emerging markets finance". This conference will feature state of the art research in emerging markets, with an accent on policy issues. It will also serve as a forum for discussion and debate between market participants, policy makers and academics. Topics of interest include:

- Unique features of EM asset pricing
- Liquidity and liquidity risk in EMs
- Risk measurement and risk management
- New thinking in market design
- How EM corporations finance themselves
- Corporate governance in EMs
- Political economy of finance
- Consequences of infirmities of regulation and supervision
- Law and finance in the EM finance setting

The conference will feature a small number of papers, with a designated discussant, thus allowing adequate time for each paper. There will be a conference website where all the papers and slideshows are collected together. Details of the previous conference can be viewed at:
