

BI Norwegian Business School, Department of Finance Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Finance at BI Norwegian Business School is seeking applicants for full-time, non-tenure track faculty positions with a two-year renewable contract. The initial appointment will be as Visiting Assistant Professor.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS: A PhD in Finance or Economics with a Finance emphasis is required. We are seeking candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and who produce high quality research in finance or financial econometrics. Employment begins in August 2016.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL: BI Norwegian Business School offers courses at the undergraduate, MSc, MBA, and executive levels as well as a doctoral program in Finance. BI Norwegian Business School is a private institution with very competitive teaching loads and competitive salaries.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE: The department is ranked 10th in Europe and 2nd among the Nordic countries, based on top-finance publications 2005-2014 (U of Texas Dallas rankings).

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, one top publication, one recent working paper, and teaching evaluations. Candidates should include contact information of at least three references. Please submit these at: financerecruiting@bi.no immediately. Applicants are encouraged to submit their application by March 8, 2016.

FURTHER INFORMATION: See <http://www.bi.edu/research/research-departments/Finance> for more information about the department and the school. For additional information, contact Paul Ehling at paul.ehling@bi.no

BI Norwegian Business School is an equal opportunity employer.