

Author Guidelines

The main objective of European Financial Management is to bridge the gap between the theory and practice of finance in order to serve both executives and academics concerned with the financial management of European corporations and financial institutions. The journal publishes significant new research in finance, striving to establish a balance between theoretical and empirical studies. Whilst European Financial Management is an outlet for academic research, using state-of-the-art applications, authors are required to address the practical and managerial implications of their work. The Professional Forum section of the journal publishes short articles by practitioners and academicians dealing with recent developments in the areas of tax laws, regulations, security design, investment/trading strategies, cases and major events in the business world. Submission of a paper will be held to imply that it contains original, unpublished work.

Submissions should be sent to:

Professor John A. Doukas, Managing Editor, Graduate School of Business and Public Administration, Constant Hall, Suite 2080, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA 23529-0222 USA. Tel: +1 757 683 5521, Fax: +1 757 683 5639, Email: jdoukas@odu.edu

Three (3) copies are required. The Managing Editor does not accept responsibility for damage or loss of papers. Also submit an electronic version of your paper in MS Word or in PDF format to: jdoukas@odu.edu. For PDF format submissions send two files: (1) Complete paper, and (2) Paper without the name (s) and affiliation (s) of the author (s).

Papers must be in English. Each paper must be accompanied by a submission fee of $300 for authors who are current European Financial Management subscribers and $400 for non-subscribers. The $400 fee includes a one-year complimentary subscription to the journal and European Financial Management Association membership. Cheques should be made payable to European Financial Management and must be drawn on a US bank in US currency.

Manuscripts are evaluated anonymously. The first page of the paper should contain the following information: (a) title; (b) name(s); (including email) (c) an abstract of not more than 100 words; (d) up to five keywords of the author's choice reflecting the content of the paper; and (e) at least one classification code according to the system used by JEL. A footnote on the same sheet should give the name and present address of the author to whom proofs and reprint order forms should be addressed. Double-space the entire document with ample margins. Acknowledgements and information on grants received can be given before the references or in a first footnote, which should not be included in the consecutive numbering of footnotes. Please attach an Executive Summary to each manuscript. This summary should not exceed 1000 words and should be viewed as an effective device for communicating to the business community the practical importance of the paper - it should not represent an expanded version of the academic abstract.

Authors are encouraged to avoid tedious mathematical expressions. When algebraic formulas do appear in the text they should be followed by a clear explanation to help readers and referees. Derivations and proofs should be placed in an appendix. Footnotes should be kept to a minimum and be numbered consecutively throughout the text with superscript arabic numerals. They must appear on a separate page. References should include only the most relevant papers. Tables, charts, and graphs should appear on separate pages in numerical order at the end of the paper. Graphs and diagrams should be referred to as figures and should be numbered consecutively in arabic numerals. Please include a short author biography for each author. These should include details about education, prior affiliations, prior published articles, etc.

European Financial Management is pleased to publish your future meeting dates and other finance faculty news (i.e. appointments, promotions, leaves, grants, resignations, retirements and deaths) free of charge. The journal will also publish dissertation abstracts and book reviews. Simply send the information to the Managing Editor, above.
