

Australian National University Conference on Asset Pricing

Call for Papers

Australian National University Conference on Asset Pricing

March 26-28, 2020

QT Hotel, Canberra, Australia

Submission Begins: September 1, 2019

Submission Deadline: September 30, 2019

Dual Submission Option: The Review of Asset Pricing Studies

Program Committee Co-Chairs: Wayne Ferson, Jeffrey Pontiff, and Meijun Qian.

Keynote Speaker: Jonathan Berk

The conference is sponsored by the Research School of Finance, Actuarial Studies, and Statistics (RSFAS) at the Australian National University (ANU). The program committee seeks high quality research papers in asset pricing, especially in empirical asset pricing, investment, and the role of institutional investors.

Conference accommodations will be provided and international airfare will be reimbursed up to AU$2000 and domestic airfare up to AU$800, for all presenters.

There is no registration fee.

The conference will open with a reception in the evening of Thursday, March 26. Paper presentations begin on Friday, March 27, and continue through the morning of Saturday, March 28. There will be a formal conference dinner on the evening of March 27. A winery tour will be organized on the 28th. Canberra is ranked one of the world's most liveable cities by OECD and one of the three hottest travel destinations by the Lonely Planet.

The submission deadline is Thursday, September 30, 2019. To submit a paper, please visit the paper submission page. If you have any question, please contact Meijun.Qian@anu.edu.au.

DUAL SUBMISSION OPTION: Authors may opt for dual submission with The Review of Asset Pricing Studies at no charge. See the SFS website at <http://sfs.org/dualsubmissionpolicy> for complete details.