The Society for Financial Studies is hosting the third annual Review of Corporate Finance Studies/Review of Asset Pricing Studies (RCFS/RAPS) Winter Conference at Nassau in the Bahamas from February 14 to 16, 2020. This will be a high-quality conference with a limited number of papers and parallel sessions for corporate finance and asset pricing. Our aim is to bring together a select group of top-quality researchers to present and discuss cutting-edge papers in corporate finance and asset pricing.

Submissions

You may submit your paper via the ConfTool submission system. To submit your paper, create a ConfTool account. ConfTool will then ask you to pay the $50 submission fee. If you are submitting multiple papers, ConfTool requires you to pay all the fees at once. You will then be able to upload your paper(s). Manuscripts do not need to be anonymous, but you may choose to submit an anonymous file if you prefer.

Submission Fee

The submission fee is $50 per paper. You may pay using credit card via PayPal or Stripe. You do not need to create a PayPal or Stripe account in order to pay via credit card – simply click past the account set up to “pay with credit card.”

Dual Submission

The RCFS/RAPS Winter Conference features a dual submission option to RCFS or RAPS. ConfTool will require you to indicate whether you want to be considered for dual submission. If you select dual submission, your paper will be considered by whichever journal you select. In some cases, the editors may suggest your paper to the other journal if they feel it may be a good fit. Please read our dual submission policy.

New & Interesting Facts Session

RCFS will have a “New and Interesting Facts” session at the conference, with papers that contain one main finding or highlight a stylized fact of interest. We encourage authors to submit such papers to the conference. If you would like your paper to be considered for this session, please ensure you select the New & Interesting Facts option. Note: this option is only available to the RCFS sessions.
