

National University of Singapore, NUS Business School
CAMRI Visiting Fellow Program (AY 2016/17)

The Centre for Asset Management Research & Investments (CAMRI) at NUS Business School in Singapore is developing a Visiting Fellow Program across a broad range of financial economics topics. CAMRI is looking to fund one-week visits by "Tier 1" scholars, particularly those from Hong Kong, China, India, etc., working in Asian applied financial economics disciplines, to conduct research at CAMRI. The Fellowship will fund economy class airfare, a University serviced apartment, and ground transportation. Our goal is bring a few visiting scholars in economics or finance to Singapore each year to help build the research community and fraternity in Asia.

REQUIREMENTS: A 1-page statement of interest is the only requirement. While researchers are not necessarily required to have an Asian focus in their projects, preference will be given to financial economics research that is relevant to Singapore and Asia.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Statements of interest should be submitted, preferably via email, to:

Ms. Christine Kon Research Manager, CAMRI NUS Business School 15 Kent Ridge Drive
Level 3, Mochtar Riady Building Singapore 119245 Email: bizck@nus.edu.sg
Statements of interest will be evaluated by CAMRI's Research Committee, which is headed by Professor David Reeb, Research Director at CAMRI and the Mr & Mrs Lin Jo Yan Professor in Banking and Finance at NUS Business School.
